

Wisconsin is still killing babies because our government has failed us. Contrary to popular belief, the legislature has the ability to enact laws that would protect every pre-born human being from abortion. The legislature is more than capable of establishing justice for the pre-born. All they have to do is write and approve a bill that defines abortion as murder and include no exceptions. They may also issue such a bill as a legislative referendum that would amend the state Constitution by a vote of the people. Yet, in the 43 years since Roe v. Wade, no such bill has been forthcoming from the legislature of the State of Wisconsin.

Given that our state legislature has thoroughly failed to establish justice for the pre-born, Abolitionists in Wisconsin have taken it upon themselves to attempt to put such a measure before the people and make way for the abolition of abortion.

WHEREAS all human beings are created in the image of God, and are thus endowed by their Creator with an inalienable right to life --

WHEREAS governments are instituted by God among men, being charged with the duty to secure this right and establish justice for all --

WHEREAS the Constitution of the United States is the supreme law of the land throughout all the states and territories of our nation --

WHEREAS the Constitution of the United States mandates that no state shall deprive any human being of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law, nor deny to any human being within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws --

WHEREAS the Constitution of the United States in no way, shape, or form gives the Supreme Court the right to pervert the meaning of the Constitution and impose this perversion upon the other branches and/or states with the legal force of the Constitution itself --

WHEREAS the policy of following judicial precedent (stare decisis) is merely a judicial policy and not a rule of law mandated by the Constitution --

WHEREAS our state legislators, judges, and executive officers have sworn a solemn oath to support, obey, and defend the Constitution of the United States --

WHEREAS murder deprives an innocent human being of life --

WHEREAS abortion is murder -- the murder of the weakest and most innocent human beings within our midst --

WHEREAS any government that allows murder to go unpunished has abandoned its most basic moral duties and obligations --

THEREFORE, we the people of the State of Wisconsin are:

RESOLVED, that by allowing the murder of innocent children to go unpunished, the government of the State of Wisconsin has abandoned its most basic moral duties and obligations --

RESOLVED, that by falsely claiming that the "right" to murder one's child is a right mandated by the Constitution of the United States, the Supreme Court has perverted the meaning of the Constitution --

RESOLVED, that our state legislators, judges, and executive officers are bound by neither law nor moral duty to accept or enforce this perversion of the Constitution --

RESOLVED, that our state legislators, judges, and executive officers are bound by solemn oath and moral duty to oppose this perversion of the Constitution within our state --

RESOLVED, that our state legislators, judges, and executive officers are bound by oath and moral duty to provide the equal protection of the laws to all human beings in our state.

BEING SO RESOLVED,

we hereby respectfully DEMAND that our state government stop protecting the murder of children by abortion within its jurisdiction and establish justice for all pre-born human beings in our state. We DEMAND that our legislators stop passing laws to regulate abortion, and instead outlaw all abortion as murder. We demand that our judges fulfill their oaths of office and stop rubber-stamping the Supreme Court's perversion of the U.S. Constitution in Roe v. Wade and Planned Parenthood v. Casey. We DEMAND that these changes be made now -- not five, ten, or fifteen years down the road. In short, we, the people of the State of Wisconsin, DEMAND the TOTAL and IMMEDIATE abolition of human abortion as the legal, Constitutional, and moral duty of our elected and appointed officials.
